OUR RAIL ROAD ENTERPRISE.

Our readers know that we are in favor of the project of building a Railroad from Elizabeth City to Weldon. We believe that this enterprise is now a necessity. The time has come when not to enjoy the privilege of a Railroad is to be denied one of the most vital results of civilization. For a town not to have a Railroad is not only to be and remain obscure, but it is the next thing to death, as well. We have the Steamboat and the river course it is true, but they are not a full substitute for the iron highway and the iron horse. Situated as we are the latter will prove valuable auxiliaries to the former—the one making the other still more valuable.

Unfortunately our people are slow—are not as sensitive as they should be on matters of public interest and enterprise. They have lived too long as though they were a "complete world in themselves," without much thought or regard for enlargement, progress or the future. Now this won't do. Every interest has suffered by this inertia. In this age there is need that a town, if it would keep pace with the busiuess spirit of the time, must get out to the people of the world, and that too by the directest and quickest routes, and thus link itself to them by outreaching arteries and incoming veins of trade. There must be rail roads. At first one, and then others as they are needed.

Old fogies tell us a rail road would not pay. They but give public expression to their ignorance when they say so. All experience proves that, when properly conducted, the contrary is true. And this road, considering the comparatively trifling cost of its construction, would be a good investment from the start. It would soon create a population and a trade sufficient to run it and make it a paying source of revenue.

Look at the map. See our situation, study our needs. A rail road to this point, too, will benefit all eastern North Carolina as well as open for us a highway to Western North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama. It would build up our City—rapidly increase its growth and enhance the value of real estate. Manufactories would spring up. The road would carry out what we have to sell and bring back what we need to keep our machine shops in motion. When ever these conditions exist houses will be built, commerce will expand and thrift go on.

THE LETTER OF JUDGE TOURGEE

On our first page will be found a letter from Hon. A. W. TOURGEE, Judge of the Superior Court of the Seventh District of this State, addressed to Senator ABBOTT, detailing a list of outrages committed in his District. This letter of Judge TOURGEE reveals a lamentable condition of affairs. The civil authorities being powerless to suppress the continued violence, the time had come for other and more effective interference.

That an organization commonly known as the Ku Klux Klan has been in existence in portions of this State has been known for some time. It was pretty thoroughly exposed in an investigation had before Judge THOMAS a year ago at New-Bern. The evidence then obtained proved it to be subversive of all law, all government and all sound morality. Composed entirely of Democrats and Conservatives its whole aim was directed against its political opponents, and it was shown that for the accomplishment of its political ends it was prepared to wage persecutions and commit all sorts of crimes. Its membess were sworn to protect each other by such means as perjury, either as witnesses or jurors. To carry elections and effect political revolutions when necessary, political opponents were to be assassinated and a system of terror inaugurated to frighten the timid away from the polls.

Judge TOURGEE's letter, followed as it is by the confessions of numerous members of the organization, show that the diabolical work was being carried on with a vengeance. Was it not time effective steps were taken to stop it? The Court in that District being powerless, the aid of the military arm of the State was invoked. That the organization will be broken up and its reign of terror ended we now have every reason to believe.

THE EUROPEAN WAR.

The war news from Europe continues to be of an important character. We give a pretty full synopsis in another column. It looks very much as though the BONAPARTE dynasty was near its end. He is asked to abdicate, a new Ministry has been formed, the young Prince Imperial has fled to London and the capitol of France is in peril. Never in the history of nations did a monarch draw a sword so causelessly, so absolutely without just pretext, so manifestly against all reason and right, as France in challenging Prussia, and hence the sympathies of the civilized world are with the latter in the great struggle, for they believe that when the King of Prussia lifted his hands to Heaven and said: "God knows I am not responsible for this war," he spoke the truth.

ENGLAND discoveres that her defences are not as strong as they should be at this critical time. During a long term of peace she has made little preparation for war. In view of the liability of her being drawn into the Franco-Prussian war, she has full occasion to be alarmed and to vigorously make ready for offensive and defensive military operations.

THE LESSON OF THE ELECTION.

That North Carolina is opposed to the Democracy by a large majority nobody seriously questions or doubts; and yet on the 4th inst., by a "conservative" combination, she decided against the Republicans. Why was this, and what is the lesson it teaches? We propose a brief answer to both questions.

The foolish, extravagant and impracticable legislation of the past two years was saddled upon the party in power. The legislature had among its members men who were incompetent and others who were dishonest. That the majority of the latter were conservatives was not taken into account, and their infamous frauds were all charged to the Republicans by the people. Says one who knows:

"The old Conservatives who had lost their property during the war were eager to make something by speculation in railroad bonds, and the unprincipled in both parties united with them, and the frauds were perpetrated on the State. There were many bad men of both parties in the Legislature, but the responsibility for the evil deeds of that body were most unjustly saddled upon Gov. Holden and his Administration."

Again, in nearly every strong Republican District the party was divided. There was such a greed for office manifested as to culminate in two sets of Republican candidates, resulting, in the majority of instances, in passing the offices over into the hands of the Conservatives. The Republican managers could not have shuffled their cards better for the accomplishing of what has so delighted their enemies. Let them continue this suicidal policy and the Republican party in the "Old North State" will never rise again.

Now what is the lesson? Harmony, discretion, honesty. Instead of continuing the internal bickerings and indulging in personal jealousies, our friends must put a stop to them at once. Hereafter, in looking for standard bearers, let the ablest, strongest and most popular Republicans in each District and County be selected. Let the nomi nations be made openly and fairly. Let us hear no more about color, but let fitness and popular strength be the guages. Let it be understood that the Republican party belongs to no one man nor clique, but that in the selection of candidates each of its members have an equal voice. Let these things be done and in the canvas two years hence the Republicans of this State will carry it by an overwhelming majority.

Too many parents make the mistake of selecting their brightest sons for some profession or active business, while the dull boys are considered fit only to be farmers. They do not realize that farmers are not to be made out of what is left after lawyers, doctors, ministers and merchants are sorted and picked out. It use to be the saying of an intelligent old friend of ours that "a man who is not smart enough to run a store is not smart epough to run a farm." He was practically correct, for it really requires more talent to be a thriving farmer than to be an average merchant.

When it is once understood that brain and thought and intelligence are among the essentials for successful farming,—that where these are brought to bear in directing the labor and managing the farm, increased profits are the result, we will find the rule reversed and parents will begin to encourage their brighter sons to embark in agriculture. There is no profession more honorable; there is none so independent.

While the facts, so far as made public, justify the efforts of Gov. HOLDEN in suppressing the outrages in Alamance and adjoining counties, and while the Judges of the Supreme Court of this State have appeared to endorse his action, we do not join in the crusade against Judge BROOKS for the course he has believed it his duty to pursue. Though not a lawyer, yet on reading the 1st section of the 14 Amendment, as well as the Act of Feb. 5, 1867, amendatory to "An Act to establish the Judicial Courts of the U. S," we cannot see but that the Judge has simply performed a constitutional duty under the laws. Vituperation and abuse are uncalled for. They never accomplish any good. No true friend of the Republican party can afford to indulge in them.

DEATH OF ADMIRAL FARRAGUT.

The most distinguished Naval officer of this country, Admiral DAVID G. FARRAGUT, died at Portsmouth, N. H., on Sunday last, at the age of sixty-nine years. He was the first and only United States naval officer who attained the full rank of Admiral—a grade which was unknown in our service until it was created as an acknowledgement of his heroic deeds. For courage and valor he had no superior, and he dies universally lamented by the nation he so faithfully served.

THE ELECTION.

The election returns are provokingly slow in coming in. We have as yet nothing reliable or official. From what we can gather SHIPP, the Conservative candidate for Attorney General, is elected by a few thousand majority, and the Legislature will stand about as follows: Senate 18 Republicans, 32 Conservatives; the House 45 Republicans and 75 Conservatives. The official returns will probably reduce the Conservative majority. In most of the Districts carried by the Conservatives it was by very small majorities.

IT appears that the shipping interests of the United States have received a fresh impetus from the effects of the European war. The names of American vessels are now found in considerable numbers on the daily lists of New York clarences for European ports. This increase of the number of our vessels is attributable to the withdrawal of the North German boats, and the consequent advance in the price of freights.

It costs three cents less to raise a pound of cotton now than it did before emancipation was proclaimed.

PEACH CULTURE. By James Alexander Fulton. Dover, Delaware. Illustrated. New York: Orange Judd & Co.

The season of the fruit to which poets best love to compare a maiden's cheek is at hand, and few there be who are not interested in the fact. No product of our orchards better deserves to be called a universal favorite, for, as Mr. Fulton says, it is so easily raised, comes into bearing so soon, and is so delicious as well as beautiful, it is impossible that it should be otherwise. The growth of peach culture is something greater than some people suppose. It is said that there are individual planters who have 600 acres devoted to this single fruit, and that there are individuals who have set as many as 20,000 trees in a single season. Mr. Fulton explains the origin of his volume as follows:

"Living in the very center of the peach-growing district; sharing the common interest felt in the subject; deeply impressed with its importance to the individual planters themselves, and also to the community at large; and believing that we could do a lasting benefit to both, have induced us to prepare, and now offer to the public, the following little treatise on peach culture."

Mr. Fulton has produced on this basis a volume of considerable merit, and one that contains not a few good hints.

THE WOMAN OF BUSINESS. By Marmion Savage. New York: D. Appleton & Co. 1870.

The characters of this book are drawn by a master hand. They are marked by distinct individuality, and each forms a life like and remarkable portrait of whose motives and peculiarities the reader as well as the author has a clear perception; they are not made up as an exercise of subtle ingenuity, but are evidently illustrations of human experience. The narrative is full of interest, the moral is unexceptionable, and the scenes are natural and well sustained.

STANDARD PERIODICALS. From the LEONARD SCOTT PUBLISHING Co., 140 Fulton st., N. Y., we are in the regular receipt of 1st. The Edinburg Review, being the oldest of the series, and in its main features still following in the path marked out by its original founders; 2nd. The London Quarterly Review which was set on foot as a rival to the Edinburg, and which resolutely maintains its opposition in politics, and shows equal vigor in its literary department. 3rd. The Westminister Review, the advocate of political and religious liberalism; 4th. The North British Review, which passes beyond the narrow formalism of schools and parties, appealing to a wider range of sympathies and a higher integrity of conviction; and 5th. Blackwood's Edinburg Magazine, which equals the Quarterlies in its literary and scientific departments and whose pages are enlivened with interesting narratives and sketches. The price of each is $4 or $10 for the five.

From Washington.

The Controller of the Currency has received about 200 applications for banks under the recently passed Currency act. The applications come chiefly from Illinois; Indiana, Michigan, Iowa, Wisconsin and Missouri. It is believed that 300 or 400 new banks will be incorporated under the new law.

Inquiries have been made from New-York and elsewhere respecting gold banks. Thus far only one gold bank has been authorized, and that one is in Boston, and will soon go into operation, having already deposited $300,000 of bonds.

Hereafter manufacturers of tobacce from scraps are prohibited from resorting to the sifting proccss in the manufacture of scraps, and must use the rake to separate that which is fit to be made into plug tobacco, and the remainder to be packed without further sifting, and marked with a lable indicating its character as a navy scrap.

Attorney-General Akerman, in conversation, today. remarked that the condition of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and other States is deplorable, because, among other reasons, the Legislatures instead of paying strict attention to such business as would advance their material welfare and fully establish themselves in their former prosperity, have yielded to railroad and other lobbyists, and that legislative bodies which subject themselves to such influences are always exposed to unfavorable criticism; therefore there is urgent ueed of reform or wholesome reconstruction.

Foreign War News.

From the papers of the 10th we learn that on Monday morning the Prussians occupied Haguenau, which was evacuated by the enemy. The German troops now hold both banks of the Saar, having occupied Sarreguemines and Forbach after but little resistance. The French loss in Saturday's fight as stated in a Berlin dispatch, was 5,000, dead, wounded and missing, and 6,000 prisoners. The German loss was 3,500 dead and wounded. King William passed through Neustadt on Monday, and received a perfect ovation. Speeches were made by Bismarck, von Boon and others. The River Elbe has been closed, a small passage only being left open for steamer traffic.

The French Corps Legislatif met yesterday. An order of the day directed against the Ministry was proposed soon after assembling and adopted by a large majority. Ollivier asked for the suspension of the sitting for a few minutes. An immence uprising is reported in Paris to repel the Prussians. Three millions of men, it is stated, are ready to be armed, and every effort to organize them is being put forth. Two councils of the Ministry were held yesterday. Trouble was anticipated from the working men's societies, and the necessary precautions were taken to prevent a demonstration; none, however, was made. The Departments of Coted' Or, Saone et Loire, Ain and Rhone are declared in a state of siege. The work upon the fortifications of Paris proceeding with dispatch, and great preparations for defense everywhere visible. Letters from Paris, receiyed in London, state that citizens, in defiance of martial low, continue to assemble in the streets to discuss the war. Measures are being taken by the Ministry not only to suppress all popular demonstrations, but also all journals counseling the formation of a national committee to conduct the war, or advising any course in opposition to the Government.

Edmond About, in a letter from the field, bitterly condemns Napoleon's mismanagement. Twenty days, he says, were lost in useless marching and countermarching, and the surprise at Weissenburg was caused from the want of due precautions being taken. The London Times ascribes the disaster to the obstinacy of the Emperor and his refusal to listen to sound military advice. The Pull Mall Gazette claims to have intelligence through private sources, that the feeling in Paris is such that the Empire in any event is doomed. The experiment of a Provisional Government, it adds, is already talked of, and the Orleanists, through Gens. Changarnier and Trochu are in the ascendant. Imperialists, it is reported, are leaving France, and the Empress Eugenie is, it is said preparing for flight.

From the papers of the 11th we learn that King William has issued a proclamation from Saarbruck addressed to the French in the territory occupied by Prussian troops, declaring that he fights against soldiers, and not against citizens, who will be protected so long as they refrain from acts of hostility. The dispatches from Metz received in London, say that Marshal Bazaine is the actual commander of the French Army, while the Emperor is but the nominal head. Only two corps are quartered at Metz, the others being under Marshal McMahon. At the battle near Woerth, the Marshal is said to have been overcome by fatigue, and being without food for many hours, he sank fainting into a ditch, where he was discovered by accident. He was restored sufficient.y to direct the retreat of the fragments of his army on foot. Additional details of the battle of Froschweiler, near Woerth, say McMahon had his horse killed under him. A brigade of cavalry from the reserves, and a division Gen. Failly's corps came up at the close, and covered the retreat of McMahon. The latter after twenty-five hours in the saddle spent Sunday at Saverne, but at night abandoned it to the Prussians. The Monitier says Gen. Douay, who was killed at Weissenburg, was in the thickest of the fight from the beginning, and when all hope was lost he sent away his aids, rode toward the enemy, dismounted and shot his horse and resumed his progress toward the enemy on foot in a tremendeous fire. His soldiers tried to stop and then endeavored to follow him and attack the enemy, but were cut down in heaps. At length a heavier discharge killed him, after all about had fallen. Prussian advices from the front, to Wednesday night, report the French Army falling back to the line of the Moselle, followed by the Prussian cavalry, beyond Saar-Union, or Bockenhain, Faulquemont. and Los Etangs, who captured stores and railway trains, and took the small fortress of Lutzelstern in the Vosges, the French evacuating it, and leaving guns and provisions.

From the papers of the 12th we learn that a London dispatch announses the arrival in that city of the Prince Imperial of France, in charge of the Emperor's confidential agent, together with the Empress' jewels and valuables, and the famous diamonds of the Duke of Brunswick. A Paris dispatch denies that the Prince Imperial is in London, and says he is still at Metz. The Prussians, in advancing, discovered that the losses of the French have been frightful. The official accounts of the engagement near Saarbruck received in Berlin show the battle to have been of much greater importance than at first reported. Frossard's corps was dispersed, the camp of one division and many magazines were captured, and prisoners by the thousand were taken, and are still hourly being taken. The French have disapeared from all points in front of the Prussians. The progress of the Prussians is impeded by villages filled with wounded French soldiers. The French Seventy-seventh Regiment, engaged in the fight at Saarbruck, was an nihilated; only four officers and eighty men reported after the fight. The prisoners captured are described as multitudes. All efforts to make a stand against the victorious enemy was ineffectual, and their cavalry picked up the retreating Frenchmen by the score. Wounded correspondents with the French armies are beginning to arrive in Paris and testify to the valor of the French troops. The chaplain of Marshal McMahon's corps was killed in the battle of Woerth. One correspondent is still missing. No military operations, according to Paris accounts, have taken place since Saturday. Marshal Cazaine made a recoinnoisanse in which he unreathed some Prussian Uhlans, who were attacked and driven back by French hussars, with trifling loss. The reverses of the French are attributed to the military incapacity of the Emperor. Gen. Dumont will have command of a Division of the French army. Gen. Changarnier's interview with the Emperor, at Metz, to offer his services, is said to have been satisfactory. The Duck' Aumale has also offered his services to the Emperor, says a London dispatch. The dispatches from Paris received in London represent the wildest excitement as prevailing in and about the Coprs Legislatif at the session of Tuesday night. Deputy Keratry demanded that the Emperor should be deposed. Outside the people had assembled in multitudes, and defied the efforts of the troops to disperse them. The Garde Nationale threw down their arms and fraternized with the crowd. Charges were frequently made by the cavalry, but the scattered throngs returned the moment the troops retired. A large number of arrests were made. A Paris dispatch says a dictatorship is spoken of, with Gen. Trochu as the head. The Emperor has been invited to return to Paris and await the reorganization of the Government, but his refusal is said to be certain. Another dispatch says he will return dead or victorious. The ladies of Paris make stirring appeals for aid for the wounded. The Berlin bankers decline to take the Prussians loan, but the people invest freely. The Opera-house in Berlin has been given up to the ladies' sewing societies and for hospital purposes. A volunteer naval force is being organized there. During the session of the House of Lords yesterday the subject of Belgian neutrality was discussed, and the statements of the Government were regarded with satisfaction. The treaty of nentrality was read and loudly cheered. The Queen's speech was then read by royal commission, and Parliament was prorogued till Oct. 27. Expressions of regret upon the breaking out of the war in Europe are made in the speech, and the Queen promises to direct constant and anxious attention to strict observance of the duties and rights of neutrality. It sets forth that the cirsumscription of the area of the war, and the restoration of peace, shall oocupy the attention of the Queen, and efforts will be made when opportunity presents. The treaty guaranteeing the neutrality of Belgium has been signed by the representative of North Germany, and the French Envoy has signified that he is authorized to sign it, and other Powers, parties to the treaty of 1839, are invited to accede to the engagement.

From the papers of the 13th we learn that the advices from Metz are to the effect that the best of feelings exists between Bazaine and the other Generals. The French Army is concentrated around the city, but is retarded in its movements by the rainy weather. Gen. Sheridan has left Berlin for King William's headquaters. The Queen of Prussia has announced that she will take personal care of the wounded of both nations, and that their treatment shall be identical. Those of the French are said to be most kindly treated as they pass through Berlin. A small vessel in endeavoring, yesterday, to enter the Jahde on the Oldenburg coast, in spite of the danger signals, ran on a torpedo and was blown up; the crew were saved. The slaughter at Woerth, it is said, was without parallel. On Sunday night McMahon marched out of Saverne at one side while the Prussiaus entered on the other. The Department of Haute Garonne has been declared under martial law. Preparations for the formation of companies of the National Guard are being made in the various Departments. The fears of famine are dispelled, as most favorable reports have been received from all quarters in reference to the crops. M. Thiers is reported to have said that the Empire was ended and a republic was inevitable. The Prince de la Tour D'Auvergne will, it is said, decline the portfolio of Foreign Affairs in the new Cabinet on account of ill health.

From the papers of the 15th the dispatches from London announce the evacuation of Metz by the French and its occupation by the Prussians, and the statement is said to be confirmed. The Prussian cavalry had cut the railroad from Paris to Frousard, by which the supplies of the army at Metz were transported. Nancy is also said to have been evacuated, and the whole west bank of the Moselle abandonod by the French. The Prussians occupied Nancy at once. Telegraphic communication between Paris and Nancy was interrupted on Saturday. A Berlin dispatch announces that the head-quarters of the King of Prussia are at Faulquemont, half way between Metz and Saarbruck. Marshal McMahon is at Toul, twelve miles from Nancy, in the direction of Paris.

The Parisian journals demand the expulsion of the Germans resident on French soil, in consequence of the discovery of Prussian spies among them. Count Pailkao, the Minister of War, has issued an address to the army, in which he blames them for firing too rapid. At Wissembourg they used more ammunition in one day than the Prussians would in three. He exhorts them to remember that they are on the line of defence from Thionville to Metz, back of which were other lines and back of all Paris, France, and four millions of armed men, and a thousand millions of treasure. The activity of the Minister of War is said to be wonderful, and all the resources of the country will soon be available. Volunteering continues with great activity. The French authorities deny the charges of the German journals that they had violated the convention of Geneva, regarding the care of wounded enemies. The Opinion Nationale says the German papers admit their losses to have been in the proportion of five to two of the French. Le Patrie, of Paris, says that when Strasbourg was invested, it was fully supplied with ammunition, and all places likely to be injured by the enemy's shot had been strengthened, and that the city can only be captured by starving the garrison. An unknown German bark, according to a Southampton dispatch, has been captured and taken a prize to Cherbourg.

The Journal Officiel of Paris publishes intelligence, by authority of the Government, setting forth that the principal chiefs of the three provices of Algeria have offered their services and those of their tribes to the French Government. On the subject of the defences of Paris, this official intelligence says that all material necessary for its defence is in Paris; more than 600 cannon are mounted on the fortifications likely to be first attacked, and the work of placing others in position is continuod vigorously day and night; that on Saturday 7,500 laborers were engaged in cutting off the streets leading into the city, and nothing remained but to close the openings in the roads and place drawbridges in position, and that outside the city earthworks, mines, ditches and other works were in progress to connect the network of fortifications surrounding the capital.

The Ku Klux Developments.

That the statements contained in the confessions which we publish this week are substantially true we have no doubt. The gentlemen who make them are all men of standing and character, who were induced to join the organization without fully understanding its objects and the means of their accomplishment. We know that efforts are being made to discredit their statements. It is said that in becoming members of the organization they took a solemn obligation not to reveal anything pertaining to it or its workings, and that in making these confessions they are acting in violation of said obligation—that men who will violate a solemn obligation under any circumstances cannot be believed under any circumstances. But such reasoning will impose upon few intelligent minds. When men find themselves involved in unlawful obligations to a faction which they cannot perform without violating the far higher obligations which they owe to their country their duty is plain. Their duty is to violate the lesser that they may perform the greater—to violate the unlawful that they may perform the lawful obligation. Let every honest and patriotic man in the organization—and we have no doubt there are many such in it—take this view and sever his connection with it at once and forever. This course is demanded by the duty which such men owe to themselves, their God their country and the cause of true Conservatism.

It is scarcely necessary for us to say more of this organization. Its character will easily be seen by every intelligent man who reads the confession on our first page. Every member of it is guilty of a conspiracy against the State government, to say the least of it, and liable to indictment in the courts and severe punishment for it. This every lawyer will tell you, whose opinion is worth anything. Not only is he guilty of a conspiracy against the government, but he is guilty of a high crime against society. Surely no honest and patriotic man, who has been drawn into the organization by his feelings or his prejudices, can hesitate a moment to with draw from it and use his influence to break it up and destroy it.—Old North State.

The Election.

The election just over has developed the astonishing fact that a minority can by united effort carry a State when the majority stay at home and do not work or vote for their candidate. We record this with chagrin and feel provoked with our party for the indifference manifested by at least 15,000 voters. Many come out now and say, "if we had thought it possible that we could have been defeated we would have registered, worked and voted." Of such men we have but a few words to say, they are unworthy of the privilege of the ballot, and have just the punishment they deserve in party defeat. The Democracy are feeling very much like a parcel of children with an elephant to play with that they are very much inclined to ride, but have not determined which course to pursue, in mounting, that is whether to avail themselves of the service of his keeper or to attempt to go it alone. To use an old war phrase as expressive of the situation, "all is quiet along the lines," and the word moves on, "so mote it be."—Newbern Times.

The Return of the Siamese Twins —A Healthy Man in a Sick Man's Bed.

Chang and Eng, the Siamese twins, accompanied by three of their sons, arrived from Liverpool in the Palmyra on Saturday, and are lodging in Taylor's Hotel, Jersey City. On the second day out Chang's left side was paralyzed. He is almost wholy deprived of the use of his limbs and of the power of speech. There were no premonitions of the stroke, but as yet Eng has felt no symptoms of paralysis. He is, however, obliged to suffer all the weariness of the invalid state while enjoying good health, and is confined to bed with his adhesive duplicate.

North Carolina.

North Carolina has the smallest proportion of Colored population of any properly Southern State. The Census of 1869 gave her 661,586 Free people to 331,082 slaves—nearly two to one—while South Carolina and Mississippi had more slaves than free people, and Alabama, Louisiana and Georgia, scarcely less. North Carolina was, after Kentucky and Tennessee, one of the easiest States to be carried by the "Conservatives;" and her recent legislation afforded the desired opportunity for raising a hue-and-cry against "Radical" "Carpet bag" incapacity and corruption. The result is a "Conservative" Legislature and four "Conservative" Congressmen, not counting Helper, who ran as Independent.—Tribune.

John Everett, alias Willy Davis, a noted desperado from Weldon, N. C., on Saturday, the 28th ult., was arrested by Officer Thompson of the Twenty-seventh Precinct, by request of Sheriff James H. Magee of Weldon. Sheriff Magee charged the prisoner with having been concerned in several crimes in Weldon, N. C., with receiving stolen goods, and with shooting a Deputy Sheriff when he attempted his arrest. Everett was taken before Justice Hogan, at the Tombs, and temporarily committed to await a requisition from Gov. Holden. The prisoner, when arrested, made a stubborn resistance, and was very defiant. In his possession, when secured, was found a loaded pistol. Yesterday Sheriff Magee arrived with a requisition from Gov. Holden, and the prisoner was given into his custody. Last evening Sheriff Magee started with Everett for North Carolina, where he will be placed on trial.—New-York Tribune.

Not having heard from the debating societies in relation to the conundrum: "Why do hens always lay eggs in the daytime?" a contemporary answers, "Because at night they are roosters."

At an examination in a neighboring county not long since, the Superintendent politely asked a young lady to decline man. "Decline a man, not by any means," was the prompt rejoinder. She got a certificate.

A New Havener bids defiance to the heat by spending the day in his well, having fitted up a large wash tub with a cushioned seat, in which he is lowered about twenty-five feet, where he enjoys his papers and cigars.

A young woman named Elizabeth Hawley commited suicide on the 6th inst., at Toledo, Ohio. She had been charged with unfaithfulness by her intended husband, and destroyed her life, as she had no desire to retain the good opinion of any other person in the world.

The story of the woman who has not spoken to her husband for twenty years, which has been going the rounds of the papers of late, has just received a satisfactory explanation. The woman has not had a husband for twenty years.

The editor of the Southern Churchman makes the following extraordinary threat to the ritualists: "For it is evident if some of us are going to use copes, and others of us nothing but surplices, others of us will discard the use of all garments whatsoever."

Gordon Cumming, the great lion-slayer, was telling Rogers one day how he came once unarmed upon a huge lion. "Thinking to frighten him," said the hunter, "I ran towards him with all my might." "Whereupon," said Rogers, "he ran away with all his mane, I suppose?" "Exactly so," said Cumming.

Gen. W. J. Smith, a member of Congress, and Judge John W. Smith, had an altercation in the street in Memphis, Tenn., on Thursday, and the former had his left ear bitten off. Both were arrested, tak end to the Police Court, and, yesterday morning, fined 85 each.

The wife of an Albany miser recently discovered the place where her husband had been in the habit of secreting his money, and helped herself liberally. The husband caused her arrest, but the Justice refused to take a complaint. She had been reduced to a state of starvation when the money was found.

A marriage was recently prevented at Lewiston, Me., by the arrest of the intended bridegroom just as he was in the act of repeating the words "for richer, for poorer, in sickness, &c." The bride fainted, the wedding breakfast spoiled, and the parents of the bride returned to their home in a high state of indignation.

A gentleman who lost his wife at Niles, Mich., recently, repaired to South Bend, Ind., in quest of her, but not finding the lady there, engaged rooms at the hotel, with the intention of waiting until she appears. He is certain that she will endeavor to procure a divorce, and is determined to have the start of her.

Thomas Sewell, D. D., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, died at Baltimore on the 14th., at the age of fifty.

A deacon at Cavendish, Vt., was recently fined $10 for selling cider to an habitualdrunkard.

Philip R Metz, a banker of Pittsburg, committed suicide, yesterday morning, in that city. In a letter addressed to his wife the deceased stated that financial troubles prompted the deed.

On the 10th inst Ex-Secretary Seward left Auburn for San Francisco. There he will be joined by several parties and start with but little delay for China and Japan. Quite a crowd of his fellow-citizens saw him off, and cheered him lustily.

The grand masquerade ball at the White Sulphur Springs, on Thursday night, given for the benefit of the needy sufferers by the late railway accident, was successful. About 800 persons were in attendance, and several hundred dollars were raised for the object in view.

Mr. J. L. Alexander, who is well-known as a cattle-dealer, superintends the farming of 45,000 acres of land in the State of Illinois. This season he has 7,000 acres of corn and 500 acres of wheat. The remainder is used for grazing and raising hay.

Crittenden's jewelry store, at Claverland, Ohio, was robbed in the modern manner yesterday. Two men entered the establishment at noon, and while one was engaged in looking at some silver, the other crawled under the counter and abstracted diamonds valued at $3,000. Both made their escape.

A singular marriage was recently solemnized in the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky, at the desire of the bride, who had promised her mother that she never would marry the bride groom "on the face of the earth." The recess of the cave where the ceremony was performed has since been known as the "Bridal Chamber."

Weisenburg, which the Prussians stormed and captured is a small town on the right bank of the Lanter, 34 miles from Strausburg and about fifteen miles above the junction on the Lanter with the Rhine. In history it is famons for the "Weisenburg Line of defenses," built by Marshal Villars during the war of the Spanish succession and extended from this town along the Lanter to Lauternburg on the Rhine. They were abandoned in 1867 but have never been destroyed. The town itself is fortified with walls and towers.

A widow of New-Jersey, who was once fascinating, having noticed that her beauty was becoming daily more "modified," and, as a consequence, less to be admired, invested in a quantity of that "refrigerative balm which restores the freshness of youth," and applied it to her scalp and face. She was awakened on the following morning to find that her hair had all dropped out and that her face was all covered with blotches that no effort of science could remove. She has only one desire now left unsatisfied and that is to be brought face to face with the owner of the "balm," and it is a pity that it may not be gratified. Her wounded feelings require something of a soothing nature.

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

Winner's Advertisement.
Lord's Prayer Pictorial.
Valuable Property for Sale.

Local and Personal.

☞ GEO. D. POOL, Jr., will accept the Editor's thanks for a basket of very nice sweet potatoes.

☞ Liberal advertising pays. As an evidence see the rushing business done by D. B. BRADFORD & Co. They are a live and enterprizing firm.

☞ We are under obligations to GEO. HINES, Esq., for a basket of the largest Peaches we have seen this season. Such treats are appreciated.

☞ During a ride down the county a few days ago we were pleased to see the crops looking so well. From present indications both the Corn and Cotton will yield more than an average crop.

☞ We are in what is called the "dull season," many of our people spending their time at Nag's Head. Of course "local items" are scarce. As we do not manufacture news, only record it as it occurs, our readers will not hold us responsible for the meagerness of this department for the coming few weeks.

☞ Those who keep continually looking back never make any progress. Their eyes mostly fixed upon the past they are apt to suffer, as a consequence, the penalty of undue conservatism. Remember Lot's wife. The account is that God turned her into a pillar of salt. We have many of these "pillars" around us still paralyzed limbs on the body of humanity.

☞ Among the various methods for keeping and making water cool, none is better or easier than that practiced in the East. The water is put into jugs, bottles or wine coolers, which are placed in buckets filled with salt and saltpeter, and then turned rapidly till the water almost reaches the freezing point. If the weather is very hot, the buckets are replenished several times a day, and the cooling process repeated.

☞ A merchant came into a printing office a short time since, and seeing a pile of papers lying on the table—unceremoniously helped himself to a copy, and said: "I s'pose you don't take any pay for just one paper?" "Not always," was the reply. Shortly afterward the printer entered the merchant's store and called for a pound of raisins, which was quickly weighed out to him. The printer took the raisins, saying: "I s'pose you don't charge anything when a fellow don't take but one pound?" "No," said the grocer, after seeing the disadvantage under which he was placed by his own stingy illiberality toward the printer and said: "When I get any more newspapers from a printer I'll pay for them."

☞ We continue to receive letters from the North making inquiries respecting the health of this place and surrounding country. We reply that the health of the people here has been comparatively good, comparing very favorably with any section we have ever lived in at the North. Excepting a few instances of diarrhœa, and a few cases of mild form of billious fever, we have had but little sickness here. We are more than satisfied that our Northern friends need have no fears on the score of health. In many instances, with the same care and prudence they exercise where they now reside, they will enjoy better health in this climate.

☞ The men of enterprize, the business men of Elizabeth City must not be idle—must not stand still. Instead of waiting for trade to come to them they must make trade. When an opening for business occurs they must improve the chances. Where there is no opening, look about and see if one can't be made. Let us have a Railroad. It will help them, it will help us, it will help all. We can have it if we will. It is feasible, it is practicable, and will be profitable. It will do more to develop the wealth and resources, to stimulate the industry, reward the labor, and promote the general comfort and prosperity of the county than any other, and, perhaps, than all other mere physical causes combined. There is scarcely a man, woman, or child in our town whose interest would not in some degree be subserved by it. Then, we repeat, let our men of enterprize bring the LOCOMOTIVE to butt through a new opening for business and trade.

☞ BROWER has just finished burning another Kiln of very fine brick.

☞ The Peanut crop promises well. Samples, already full grown, of this year's growth, have been laid on our table. They were raised by Mr. ALLEN.

☞ We would feel under obligations to our friends from each County in this Congressional District if they would send us accurately, the full official vote. We want the full vote for every candidate.

☞ In reply to "Inquirer" we answer that the Crown Prince of Prussia, FREDERIC WILLIAM, who fought Marshal MACMAHON at Weissenburg, is now in his 39th year of age. He married the Princess Royal of England, daughter of Queen VICTORIA.

☞ Notwithstanding some of the dead weights the party was obliged to carry, this Congressional District did comparatively much better than any other in the State. We have not only increased our majority about 1500, but we have sustained fewer losses in members elected to the State Legislature.

☞ There are still some who cannot get the fact beaten into their heads that communications sent us without any name cannot appear in our columns. If those who write us letters are afraid to sign their names they may as well leave the letters unwritten. When we know who the writers are we will give them the notice and attention they deserve.

☞ If the individual who has been circulating the report that the NORTH CAROLINIAN is not printed here will take the trouble to call at the printing office on Mondays and Thursdays he will be convinced that he is simply——mistaken. He will find, moreover, that we have one of the best arranged Printing offices in the country.

☞ A correspondent writes us saying: "In reading a recent Foreign war letter I see reference made to the 'Great Elector.' Who was he, or what has it reference to?" We answer; it was a sur-name given to FREDERICK WILLIAM who, from the year 1620 to 1688, was a sovereign of Prussia. He was distinguished for his military genius and his private virtues, as well as for the prudence and wisdom with which he administered the civil government. He is regarded as the founder of the Prussian greatness, and his reign gave to the country the military character which it still bears.

☞ His Honor Judge BROOKS is holding U. S. District Court at Salisbury. The Old North State thus alludes to him and the cases before him:

On the opening of the Court his Honor delivered one of the clearest and most appropriate charges to the grand jury that it has ever been our fortune to hear. The patience with which he hears the arguments of counsel and the great clearness of his charges to the jury show him to possess some of the qualification that go to make a good Judge—which he is.

No cases of special importance have been disposed of. A number of indictments against parties for violations of the Internal Revenue laws have been tried, and in about one half of them the defendants have been acquited. The writ of habeas corpus, issued by his Honor for the Caswell and Alamance prisoners, has not yet been returned, and may not be for several days, as the parties in whose custody they are have ten days in which to make the return.

☞ Some of our friends in other parts of the District have allowed themselves to arrive at a wrong conclusion respecting the wishes and purposes of the NORTH CAROLINIAN. They appear to have an idea that it would ignore every part of the district not within the limits of Elizabeth City and Pasquotank county. This is a mis-representation. So far as the District is concerned the NORTH CAROLINIAN has aimed to be cosmopolitan. It has embraced every opportunity to aid improve and benefit all. That a reciprocity of feeling and purpose has not been returned is not its fault. Let every section give it a more liberal support and thus manifest that they feel some interest in it and they will find it taking much more interest in them. Let them, in addition, send it every item of interest, including early productions and the condition of the crops, and the progress of all improvements in their respective localities, and it will find us taking great pleasure in giving them a prominent notice in our paper. These are our conditions. Are they not fair? If they are not responded to, the fault will not be ours if some portions of the District are neglected.

☞ Those peaches sent us by Capt. WATERS were excellent.

On the 6th inst., an injured husband at Syracuse attempted to take the life of his wife's paramour. Having found the man at his house, he fired at him three times, but none of bullets to effect. No arrest was made. There was quite a commotion created in the street where the shooting occurred.

A young getleman of Buffalo went to serenade his lady-love the other night, and while in the act of singing the first verse of the beantiful ballad "I'm dreaming, love, of thee" was suddenly "awakened" by the contents of a tub of cold water from a third story window. He didn't confinue the song.

It appears from the Nashville Journal of Medicine and Surgery that the tea plant is now successfully cultivated near Knoxville, Tenn. It has been raised there for the last ten years, the original plants having been obtained from the Agricultural Department at Washington in 1858. The plant is said to be hardy, and needs no protection from frosts. Good judges pronounce it to be not inferior in fragrance and flavor to the imported Young Hyson.

SINKING SLOWLY.—Diseases that progress rapidly to a crisis are not the only ones to be dreaded. Fungus or dry rot does not blast a tree as suddenly as a stroke of lightening, but unless arrested, it destroyes it as certainly; and in like manner chronic debility, although it does not kill with the swiftness of yellow fever, is as sure to sap the springs of life eventually as any acute disease, if not checked by invigorating medicines. There is something inexpressibly touching in the spectacle of premature decay. Languor, pallor, emaciation, depression of spirits, and a distaste for exertion, are its ordinary symptoms, and they should be promptly met by tonic treatment. The best invigorant and exhilarant that can be administered in a case of this kind is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The stimulating principle of the preparation rouses the dormant energies of the system, and the strengthening and regulating properties give a permanent and healthful impulse to the vital forces thus brought into play. The failing appetite is reawakened, the process of digestion and assimilations are quickened, the quality of the blood is improved, the secretions become more natural, and every organ that contributes to the nourishment of the body undergoes salutary change. By these means the repair of the physical structure is effected and its health and vigor restored. In no class of diseases has the beneficient operation of the Bitters been more marked and striking than in those characterized by general debility and nervous prostration. Ladies affected with these ailments find in this most wholesome of all tonics and correctives the safest and surest means of relief. It is strong to restore and powerless to injure. Such is the uniform testimony of "clouds of witnesses."

CHOLERA—HOW TO CURE IT.—At the commencement of the Diarrhœa, which always precedes an attack of the Cholera, take a teaspoonful of the Pain Killer in sugar and water, (hot if convenient,) and then bathe freely the stomach and bowels with the Pain Killer clear. Should the diarrhœa or cramps continue, repeat the dose every ten or fifteen minutes until the patient is relieved. In extreme cases, two or more teaspoonfuls may be given at a dose.

The Pain Killer, as an internal remedy, has no equal. In cases of Cholera, Summer Complaints, Dyspepsia, Dysentery, Asthma, it cures in one night, by taking it internally, and bathing with it freely. Its action is like magic, when externally applied to Old Sores, Burns, Scalds, and Sprains. For Sick Headache and Toothache, don't fail to try it. In short, it is a Pain Killer.

Directions accompany each bottle.

The Pain Killer is sold by all dealers in Medicines. Prices, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1 per bottle.

SALE OF VALUABLE PROPERTY

IN CAMDEN COUNTY.

Great inducements held out to everybody.

By virtue of the authority given me by the will of Edmund L. Dozier, I shall on Monday the 5th day of September 1870, offer for sale at Public Auction at the Court House door in Camden County, a very valuable steam saw and grist mill. This mill is in fine order, and well conditioned, and from its advantageous situation, near Camden Court House, and in the midst of a fine timbered country, offers the strongest inducements to those wishing to invest in this species of property.

Also at the same time and place a tract of one hundred and fifty acres of timber land, situated in the lower end of Camden County, and near to the mill mentioned above. Some of the finest pine timber in Camden county is growing on this land. And at the same time and place a fine lot of growing timber.

July 21st 1870. Executor.

TO LUMBERMEN.

I have standing on my land in Chowan county trees enough to saw ten million feet of lumber, within one and a half miles of Steam-boat navigation; the land on which these trees stand can be hauled on any season of the year; timber is of excellent quality, been pronounced so by those of experience in getting lumber. Any one with proper experience in the Saw Mill business, wishing to make money, there is no better chance to such a one. I will either sell, or take an interest in sawing up my lumber.

MEDICAL.

SICKNESS, PAIN AND DEATH.

Legitimately result as penalties for violations of natural laws, from which none escape.

The faded cheek, the pale and wan features, the dull eye, the clouded intellect, the deep heaving sigh, the feeble and emaciated frame, the dejected brow, the tottering gate, all indicate previous transgression of law. Knowing that "procrastination is the thief of time," all intelligent beings apply for some remedy as soon as circumstances permit; while those who do not act upon the principle that "delays are dangerous," generally linger, lose more time and pay more money.

Thousands of mothers and daughters, in all stations and conditions of life, are suffering, lingering and dying from the effects of some dreaded and dreadful

FEMALE COMPLAINT,

That claims its victims throughout the length and breadth of our land.

Many females suffer in some way at each monthly period; some girls are in great peril at the commencement of menstruation, while older ones dread its decline at the "turn of life." Sometimes the menstrual flow is too much, or too little, or may be attended with pain; may be irregular or entirely checked, or changed in appearance, attended with other distressing symptoms. Leucorrhœa, or the "Whites," frequently drains the system, or ulceration of the womb may create pain and cause rapid prostration.

Falling of the womb is an exceedingly common complaint, giving much trouble and distress, which, under ordinary treatment, is difficult to cure.

Hysterics, Green Sickness, Irritability of the Womb, and other serious and fatal complaints follow the female sex throughout life. Lives there a medical gentleman who has or can relieve the fair sex of the above troubles? Not many. Is there no combination remedial agents that will come to her rescue? We answer, Yes.

ENGLISH FEMALE BITTERS,

The only acknowledged Uterine Tonic and Female Regulator known, will cure all complaints above mentioned in an incredibly short time. The Bitters at once arouses, strengthens and restores the womb to its natural condition, removing obstructions, relieving pain and regulating the monthly period. Yonder stands a pale, feeble and languid girl, just bursting into womanhood; she is the pride of all, but hark! she silently steals a pickle, eats chalk, or a slate pencil; no appetite for food; she turns with a dull eye and seeks solitude; her eye no longer sparkles; her merry laugh is no longer heard ringing through the air; she mopes about with bloodless lips and gums, with headache, palpitation, constipation, swimming of the head, cold feet and hands, melancholy; she has a coated tongue, offensive breath, and a host of other evils too numerous to mention.

When neglected all these symptoms become aggravated, there is sick stomach, heartburn, a dark line settles under the eyes, the legs and ankles are swollen, the hair loses its gloss and falls off, there is brittleness and splitting of the finger-nails, swollen abdemen, extreme nervousness, fretfulness, pains and aches, dry cough, Hysterical Fits, rapid prostration, epilepsy and death! If you, or any of your friends, are thus afflicted, send at once for a Bottle of English Female Bitters and be cured. Its effects are magical in such complaints. Surely no mother will postpone and delay this duty until

DEATH IS AT THE DOOR.

In all these complaints the system evidently shows a want of red blood, and Mr. Churchill, in his work on Diseases of Females, says: "Bearing in mind that the blood is remarkably deficient in red corpuscles, and the known property of iron to correct this condition, theory suggests it as the most to be relied on, the best of which is the Citrate." Citrate of Iron enters largely into the composition of English Female Bitters, combined with powerful vegetable tonics of rare qualities.

Among the mountains of Tennessee and the piney woods of Mississippi, is found a certain hard and flinty root, which has been in secret use by some old midwives for many years, possessing magic powers in regulating and restoring all females suffering with any affection of the womb. This root we have obtained, gave it a fair test in our practice and it is now one of the principle ingredients in these Bitters. Other powerful uterine and general tonics also enter into its composition. We also add Leptandra or Black root, sufficient to act upon the liver and keep the bowels open.

BLOOMING YOUNG GIRLS,

Middle-aged matrons, those at the critical period, and the aged grandmother, are all cured by the use of our English Female Bitters, now prescribed and used by physicians all over the country.

If you are troubled with Falling of the Womb, attended with a sense of weight and bearing down pain in the back and side, and other attendant evils, English Female Bitters will give enfire relief.

Those at the "turn of life," mothers after confinement, and all others (male or female) who are convalescents from any protracted or debilitating complaint, who gain strength slowly, and whose digestion is slow and imperfect, will find these Bitters the very thing their system demands. It gives a powerful appetite, aids and assists digestion, arouses the liver, strengthens mentally and physically, and fills the whole system with pure crimson blood coursing through its channels.

COMMON GROG-SHOP BITTERS.

Empty Bitter Bottles, of various styles, can be found around almost every dwelling and cabin throughout the land. Their taste is pleasant, and are advertised to cure almost every disease, while the manufacturers know they possess no medicinal properties whatever. They are so many disguises for exceedingly common beverages which do not, nor cannot possibly cure any one.

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

More about Apple Trees.

BY HORACE GREELY.

In my opinion, Apple-trees, in most orchards, are planted too far apart and allowed to grow taller and spread their limbs more widely than is profitable. I judge that a pruner or picker should be able to reach the topmost twig of any tree with a ten-foot pole, and that no limb should be allowed to extend more than eight feet from the trunk whence it springs. Our Autumnal Equinox occurs before our Apples are generally ripe for harvest, and, finding our best trees bending under a heavy burden of fruit, its fierce gales are apt to make bad work with trees as well as apples. The best tree I had, with several others, was thus ruined by an equinoctial tempest a few years since. Barren trees escape unharmed, while those heavily laden with large fruit are wrenched and twisted into fragments. And, even apart from this peril, a hundred weight of fruit at or near the extremity of limbs which extend ten or twelve feet horizontally from the trunk, tax and strain a tree more than four times that weight growing within four or five feet of the trunk, and on limbs that maintain a semi-erect position. I diffidently suggest, therefore, that no apple-tree be allowed to exceed fifteen feet in hight, nor to send a limb more than eight feet from its trunk, and that trees be set (dimond-fashion) twenty-four feet apart each way, instead of thirty-two, as some of mine were. I judge that the larger number of trees (72 per acre) will produce more fruit in the average than the larger but fewer trees grown on squares of two by two rods to each, that they will thrive and bear longer, and that not one will be destroyed or seriously harmed by winds where a dozen would if allowed to grow as high and spread as far as they could.

Every apple-tree should be pruned each year of its life: that is, it should be carefully examined with intent to prune if that be found necessary. It should be pruned with a careful eye to giving it the proper shape, which, from the point where it first forks upward, should be that of a tea-cup, very nearly. I have seen young trees so malformed that they could never bear fruit enough to render them profitable. And the pruning should be so carefully, judiciously done from the outset that no wood two years old should ever be cut away. With old, malformed, diseased, worm-eaten, decaying trees, the best must be done that can be; but he who, pruning a tree that he set and has hitherto cared for, finds himself obliged to cut off a limb thicker than his thumb, may justly suspect himself of lacking a mastery of the art of fruit-growing.

Sprouts from the root of an apple-tree remind me of children who habitually play truant or are kept out of school. They not merely can never come to good, but they are a nuisance to the neighborhood and bring reproach on the community.

The apple-grower should never forget that every producer needs to be fed in proportion to his product. If a cow gives twenty quarts of milk per day, she needs more grass or other food than if she gave but two quarts; and an acre of orchard that yields a hundred barrels of Apples per annum needs something given to the soil to balance the draft made upon it. Nature offers us good bargains, but she does not trust and will not be cheated. When she offers a bushel of Corn for a bushel of dirty Salt, Shell, Lime, or Wood Ashes, a load of Hay for a load of Muck, we ought not to stint the measure, but pay her demand ungrudgingly.

And now a last work on Insects.

My township (Newcastle) is said to have formerly grown more Apples per annum than any other township in the United States; its apple-trees are still as numerous as ever, but their product has fallen off deplorably. I estimate the average yield of the last three years at less than a bushel per annum for each full-grown tree: I think a majority of the trees have not borne a bushel each in all those three years. Unseasonable frosts, storms, &c., have borne the blame of this barrenness—perhaps justly, if we consider only immediate causes—but the caterpillar and other vermin are, in my view, our more potent, though remoter, afflictions. Not less than four times within the last sixteen years have our trees been covered with nests and worms; and I have seen whole orchards stripped of nearly every leaf till they were as bare (of everything but caterpillars) in July as they should have been in December. After the scourge had passed the trees reclad themselves with leaves; but they grew old under that visitation faster in one year than they would have done in ten of healthful fruit bearing; and they are now prematurely gray and moss-covered because of the terrible infliction.

I lay down the general proposition that no man who harbors caterpillars has any moral right to Apples—that each grower should be required to make his choice between them. Slovenly farmers say, "O there are so many of them that I cannot kill half so fast as they multiply." Then I say, cut down and burn up the trees you can best spare, until you have no more left than you can keep clear of worms.

If it were the law of the land that whoever allowed caterpillars to nest and breed in his fruit-trees should pay a heavy fine for each nest, we should soon be comparatively clear of the scourges. In the absence of such salutary regulation, one man fights them with persistent resolution, only to see his orchard again and again invaded and ravaged by the pests hatched and harbored by his careless neighbors. He thus pays and repays the penalty of others' negligence and misdoing until, disconraged and demoralized, he abandons the hopeless struggle, and thenceforth repels the enemy from a few favorite trees around his dwelling, and surrenders his orchard to its fate. Thus bad laws (or no laws) are constantly making bad farmers. The birds that would help us to make head against our insect foes are slaughtered by reckless boys—many of them big enough to know better—and our perils and losses from enemies who would be contemptible if their numbers did not render them formidable increase from year to year. We must change all this; and the first requisite of our situation is a firm alliance of the entire farming and fruit-growing interest defensive as to birds, offensive toward their destroyers, and toward the vermin multiplied and shielded by the ruthless massacre of our feathered friends.

Fish and Muck Compost.

To prepare fish and muck compost, begin with three shovels of swamp muck, and spread it on the ground in a circle, if for a small heap of a few barrels of fish pomace, or in a long heap for a large quantity; then beat the fish fine and scatter one shovelful over the muck, and so continue alternately until all is mixed, leaving the heap cone shaped. In about a week the heap will begin to heat, and should be turned and mixed, beginning at one side and making all fine with the back of the shovel. In a week or ten days more it should be turned. In three weeks it will be fine and fit for use. It may be kept until wanted but will require further turning if it heats. The muck should be damp when mixed or it will not heat sufficiently. Peruvian guano and muck, or earth, should be mixed in the proportion of six to one of guano. It does not heat, bus requires the same turning and mixing as fish and muck. A handful of either in the hill is about the quantity generally used, but of the fish compost more is required than of the guano—as much can be held in the hand with the palm uppermost and the fingers spread. If thrown into the hole in a heap, it should be spread before covering to avoid the danger of destroying the seed, which never should be planted directly upon it.—American Agriculturlist.

Holes in the Pocket Book.

Farmers, mind well that you keep no holes in your pocket-book. If you do, be sure all the "tin" will slip through and be lost. Let us see how some men make holes in their pocket-books:

If you plow shallow, plant inferior seed and then suffer what comes up to run to grass or fall prey to insects, you make a hole in your pocket-book.

If you turn out your stock upon the common to mix with inferior breeds, or allow them to stray or be stolen, be sure you have a hole in your pocket-book.

If you purchase abroad what you might easily and cheaply make at home, such things will make holes in your pocket-book.

If you keep bad fences or bad gates, and your neighbor's stock break in upon your growing crops, and then worry or injure them with dogs, and by so doing turn a friend into an enemy, you make a sad rent in your pocket-book.

If you spend your time and money at elections or stores, drinking and carousing, when you ought to be at work, be assured there is a big hole away down in your pocket-book.

If you leave your tools to be thrown about here and there, exposed to all sorts of weather be sure they will rot and rust and make holes in your pocket-book.

Land undrained and unmanured, stock poorly fed or neglected, orchards left to grow at will or be pruned by cattle, idleness, sloth, tobacco, whiskey, worthless dogs, fine clothes—all these make sad, sad holes in the pocket-boak, the memory of which will not be pleasant when the evening shadows come and you find that you have done nothing for a rainy day.—American Farmer.

Liquid Grafting Wax.

At the fair of the Essex Agricultural Society, Massachusetts, the annual address was delivered by B. P. Ware, Esq., of Marblehead, in the course of which he remarked that "the changing of an inferior variety of apples or pears for a superior one, is now so simplified and made easy by the use of a liquid grafting wax, applied with a brush, that no one need be without the choicest kind of fruit who has healthy, vigorous trees, of whatever size they may be." In a letter to Levi Bartlett, Esq., a distinguished farmer of New Hampshire, explaining the nature of this application, Mr. Ware pronounces this receipe as invaluable, having used it for several years, and furnished a copy of it to Mr. Bartlett, who has published the same in the Country Gentleman, from which we copy it for the benefit of our fruit raisers, not doubting its great value:

"Melt one pound rosin gently, then add one ounce of beef tallow; stir it well, take it from the fire, cool off a little, then mix with it one tablespoonful of spirits of turpentine, and add seven ounces of alcohol, 95 per cent. proof; this will cool it down so rapidly that it will be necessary to put it over the fire again, stirring it constantly, taking care that it does not inflame; remove from the fire as the lump begins to melt again, and continue stirring until thoroughly mixed. It will appear like strained honey. After setting the scions, apply a thin coating with a small brush; the wax will soon harden, and is impervious to air and water.

"Use a kettle large enough, so that it will not foam over when you put in the alcohol, which should be poured in gradually."

The Dairy Business.

The introduction of the co-operative factory system has accomplished the most wonderful results in the dairy business in this country, the value of which has exceeded in amount, even up to this time, that secured for the cotton crop, after the introduction of the cotton gin, the power-loom for weaving cloth, or the locomotive for transportation. In 1860, about which period the farmers began to turn their attention more generally to the business, after several disasterous years in succession to their wheat crops, the products of the dairy were $50,000,000; whilst that of 1869, of butter and cheese, are estimated by Commissioner Wells, at $400,000,000. An increare of 800 per cent. in nine years! The value of wheat for the same year is estimated at $275,000,000; hay, 250,000,000; corn, $450,000,000, and cotton $303,750,000. This business may be said to be but now in its infancy, and is being yearly extended, and is capable of reaching to the most enormous proportions, as it is suitable for every latitude and section.

Salting Down Cucumbers.

Leave half an inch of stem on cucumbers—wash them in cold water—immediately pack with salt in alternate layers, salt next to the wood; one barrel of salt to five of cucumbers. Fill barrel full, putting salt on top—cut a wide broad board so as just to fit inside the barrel—bore half a dozen half-inch holes through—place it on pickles with a stone on, which should weigh at least twenty-five pounds, so as to keep the pickles always in brine. Take off all scum which rises. Keep the barrels in the shade, and in four weeks take off the stone and fill to the top, as they will settle some. Put more salt on, head them up, and they are ready for market. It is best to have two sizes of pickles.—Cider Makers Manual.

Summer Management of Swine.

In the region of country about Cincinnati, the system of all good farmers is to pasture their hogs on clover during the summer, and, while thus pasturing them, to feed them no grain whatever. The hogs are in far better condition to fatten in the fall when summered on clover than on grain. Hogs thus pastured are rung. Most farmers know how to do this.

We think the Ohio practice is much better than that of turning out hogs to live on miserable wild or other grass, or to sustain life by working their way down to fern roots. A clover pasture for hogs would pay well. But it costs some labor. And what is there of value that does not?

BERKSHIRE SWINE.—The Kentucky Farmers' Home Journal says that during the year over fifty thorough bred Berkshire swine have been brought into that State from the herd of Mr. John Snell, of Edmonton, Gatario, Canada. It is also added that these animals have given entire satisfaction in every case.

ASHES.—Ashes cannot be applied amiss at any season. If the land is level and not subject to wash we would apply in the fall. If otherwise, we should prefer to apply early in the spring.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A tract of land containing sixty acres one mile from E. City, immediately on the River, and binding a public road on two sides. This farm has a good one story dwelling and outhouses, a quantity of fruit trees, and has a fence around it that will last for fifty years. The adjoining farm is owned and occupied by a Northern man, and though containing twenty acres less land than the farm he has refused $5.000 cash for it. The first named tract is offered for sale for a division, and at the low price of $2.400.

Another tract adjoining the above, containing 356 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servants house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient outhouses, 3 tenant-houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 100 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in a fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immense profit this year, ten acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Phila., or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts, to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $80 per acre, according to location, building, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery, where a seine 1.000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rockfish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. This fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable investment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands-besides fish house. Then some 500 to 1.000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

GREAT REDUCTION IN PRICES.

I wish to announce to the citizens and vicinity, that I have reduced the prices of Photographs. I wish it understood that I do not do this because I have opposition for I have none, and besides I only charged Norfolk prices before, but do this so every one who wants pictures will be able to get them. I have reduced the prices 50 cts. on a dozen, 50 cts. on ½ dozen and 25 cts. on ¼ dozen. Hoping to get a fair share of public patronage, and I will make the pictures just as good as I have before and spare no pains in suiting my customers with good work. I have been in the Photograph business over ten years and flatter myself that I can do as good work as can be done anywhere.

TO PHYSICIANS

NEW YORK, May 5th, 1870

Allow me to call your attention to my

PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distilation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of the ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopœa, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflamation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist,
of 16 Years' Experience.

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. HELMBOLD; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,
Firm of Powers & Weightman,
Manufacturing Chemists,
Ninth and Brown streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

The constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of Medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU.

In affections peculiar to Females, is unequalled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH

Will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superceding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

In all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE—$1.25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

The Great Medical Discovery!

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands

Bear testimony to their wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

THEY ARE NOT A VILE

FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics" "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying out all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters, according to directions, and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, and Gout, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

They invigorate the stomach, and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Copious Discharges of Urine, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia, are cured by these Bitters.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French, and Spanish.
